If your driver license has been suspended or revoked you may be eligible for an Occupational/Restricted License (ORL).

An ORL can be used to drive to:

- work, including self-employment, WorkFirst, apprenticeship, or on-the-job training.
- school.
- court-ordered community service.
- substance abuse treatment or 12-step meeting if no transit service is available.
- a healthcare provider.
- anywhere that is required to provide continuing care of someone who is dependent on you.

To be eligible:

- your driver license had to be valid on the date of conviction or before the date of any suspension/revocation.
- you had no convictions for vehicular assault or vehicular homicide within seven years before the incident for which you are requesting the ORL.
- your suspension/revocation is not for minor in possession, vehicular assault or homicide, intermediate license violations, failure to pay child support, fraud, violation of court-ordered probation, medical or vision reasons, or habitual traffic offender status.
- you cannot get an ORL to operate a commercial motor vehicle (Chapter 46.25 RCW).

To apply

Complete a separate application for each reason for driving.

1. Submit proof of financial responsibility with us by filing one of these:
 - a Certificate of Insurance (SR-22). (This is the most common. An insurance agent can help you but you should allow several weeks for the process.)
 - a State Treasurer's certificate of deposit of $60,000 or approved collateral of equal value.
 - a surety bond executed by the person giving proof and a surety company duly authorized to do business in this state, or by the person giving proof and by two individual sureties.
2. If you are applying because:
 - you have an alcohol-related suspension or revocation, you must get an interlock installed in all vehicles you drive. The provider will submit proof of installation to us.
 - you have a conviction, verify that we have record of the conviction on file before you submit your application. We cannot process an application without the conviction on file.
 - you did not pay a ticket or appear in court (FTA), submit proof that you have entered into a payment plan with the court. Each FTA requires proof from the related court.
3. Take this completed application(s) and a $100 nonrefundable fee to any driver licensing office or mail them to:
Department of Licensing
Occupational/Restricted License
PO Box 9048
Olympia, WA 98507-9048

Waiting period

An ORL cannot be issued during the:

- initial 30 days of the suspension if this is your first DUI arrest.
- initial 90 days if this is your first DUI and you refused the test.
- first year if it is your second or subsequent DUI arrest or refusal.

Once your application has been processed and you have met all the requirements, we will mail the ORL to you.

Keeping your ORL

The ORL will restrict:

- the times you may drive.
- the vehicles you may drive.
- the area in which you may drive.

Your ORL will be cancelled if any of the following occurs:

- you are convicted of violating the ORL restrictions.
- you commit an offense that requires us to suspend/revoke your driving privilege while the ORL is in effect.
- we receive evidence that your reason for driving is no longer valid.
